

Malie Conway

Biography

Malie Conway

Head of US Distribution

Malie is Head of US Distribution at Allianz Global Investors, and member of the firm's International Management Group and Global Distribution Committee. As Head of US Distribution, she is responsible for developing the firm's business in the US, Canada and Latin America.

Before taking on her current role in 2020, Malie was Chief Investment Officer (CIO), Global Fixed Income, a role she held following AllianzGI's acquisition of Rogge Global Partners (RGP) in 2016.

At RGP, a pioneer of global fixed income and one of the first global credit investors, Malie was co-CIO, covering not only investment grade credit, but also high yield, emerging market and structured credit.

During her 18 years with RGP, Malie and her team created an enviable track record consistently outperforming benchmarks while maintaining a conservative investment approach.

Through senior roles at JP Morgan Asset Management and Rothschild Asset Management, Malie honed her fixed income investing skills before setting up Global Credit for RGP in 1998. Malie has a B.A. in finance and marketing from Southbank University, United Kingdom.
